- A. 0
- B. 1
- C. 2
- D. 3
- E. 4
- F. 5

Answer: F

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

Explanation: The two common methods to determine whether a SIP session is active; RTP/RTCP media inactivity timer and session timer have limitations when used with the Cisco UBE. The media inactivity (rtp/ rtcp) method will not work if flow around mode is configured as the media is sent directly between endpoints without going through the Cisco UBE and session timer cannot be used if the SIP endpoint does not support session timer. The in-dialog OPTIONS refresh feature introduces a refresh mechanism that addresses these two scenarios, and can be used on SIP-to-SIP and SIP-to-H.323 calls. The refresh with OPTIONS method is meant to only be hop-to-hop, and not end-to-end. Since session timer achieves similar results, the OPTIONS refresh/ping will not take affect when session timer is negotiated. The behavior on the H.323 endpoint is as if it was a TDM-SIP call. The generating in-dialog OPTIONS is enabled at the global level or dialpeer level. The system default setting is disabled. This feature can be use by both a TDM voice gateway and an Cisco UBE.
