NEW QUESTION: 1

You are creating a class library that will be used in a web application.

You need to ensure that the class library assembly is strongly named.

What should you do?

- A. Use the xsd.exe command-line tool.
- B. Use assembly attributes.
- C. Use the aspnet_regiis.exe command-line tool.
- D. Use the gacutil.exe command-line tool.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Explanation: The Windows Software Development Kit (SDK) provides several ways to sign an assembly with a strong name:
* Using the Assembly Linker (Al.exe) provided by the Windows SDK.

* Using assembly attributes to insert the strong name information in your code. You can use either the AssemblyKeyFileAttribute or the AssemblyKeyNameAttribute, depending on where the key file to be used is located.

* Using compiler options such /keyfile or /delaysign in C# and Visual Basic, or the /KEYFILE or /DELAYSIGN linker option in C++. (For information on delay signing, see Delay Signing an Assembly.)

NEW QUESTION: 2

You have a row level BEFORE UPDATE trigger on the EMP table. This trigger contains a SELECT statement on the EMP table to ensure that the new salary value falls within the minimum and maximum salary for a given job title.

What happens when you try to update a salary value in the EMP table?

- A. The trigger fails because you cannot use the minimum and maximum functions in a BEFORE UPDATE trigger.
- B. The trigger fails because it needs to be a row level AFTER UPDATE trigger.
- C. The trigger fires successfully.
- D. The trigger fails because a SELECT statement on the table being updated is not allowed.

Answer: D

Explanation:

This will result in a mutating table. A mutating table is a table against which a data manipulation statement has been issued and the corresponding trigger on the DML statement is reading from the same table, at the same time. To work around this you would need to need to create a statement level trigger with the SELECT statement and place the values into the package variables. Then the ROW Level Trigger could check the values in the package variables.

NEW QUESTION: 3

Note: This question is part of a series of questions that use the same scenario. For your convenience, the scenario is repeated in each question. Each question presents a different goal and answer choices, but the text of the scenario is exactly the same in each question in this series.

Start of the repeated scenario

Your network contains an Active Directory domain named contoso.com. The functional level of the domain is Windows Server 2012.

The network uses an address space of 192.168.0.0/16 and contains multiple subnets.

The network is not connected to the Internet.

The domain contains three servers configured as shown in the following table.

Client computers obtain TCP/IP settings from Server3.

You add a second network adapter to Server2. You connect the new network adapter to the Internet. You install the Routing role service on Server2.

Server1 has four DNS zones configured as shown in the following table.

End of the repeated scenario

You need to configure an administrator named [\[email&#160;protected\]](#) as the contact person for the fabrikam.com zone.

What should you modify? To answer, select the appropriate options in the answer area.
