You write a new event subscription at the scope of your resource. The event must be invalidated after 3 specific period of time. You need to configure Event Grid to ensure security. What should you implement? To answer, select the appropriate options in the answer area.

Answer :

Explanation:

Explanation

Box 1: SAS tokens

Custom topics use either Shared Access Signature (SAS) or key authentication. Microsoft recommends SAS, but key authentication provides simple programming, and is compatible with many existing webhook publishers.

In this case we need the expiration time provided by SAS tokens.

Box 2: ValidationCode handshake

Event Grid supports two ways of validating the subscription: ValidationCode handshake (programmatic) and ValidationURL handshake (manual).

If you control the source code for your endpoint, this method is recommended.

NEW QUESTION: 3

The retail method of inventory estimation applies a cost-retail ratio to the ending inventory at retail to determine ending inventory at cost. For example, a popular method calculates the

- A. Retail value at cost
- B. Retail value at retail
- C. Retail value at retail
- D. Retail value at cost

Answer: B

Explanation:

The retail method of inventory estimation applies a cost-retail ratio to the ending inventory at retail to determine ending inventory at cost. For example, a popular method calculates the ratio as goods available for sale at cost divided by goods available at retail, with markups but not markdowns included in the calculation of the retail amount. Normal inventory is subtracted from the retail amount of goods available because are not available. However, abnormal amounts of theft, etc., are removed from the cost and retail amounts. The reason for the difference in treatment is that normal but not abnormal inventory losses are anticipated and included in the selling retail value). Accordingly, failure to account for normal inventory shrinkage has no effect on the calculate cost-retail ratio but overstates ending inventory at retail.
